

Thumb War

The two players face each other and link hands, gripping each other's fingers so that both players' thumbs are free and pointing up. Each player tries to pin (trap) the other player's thumb under their own thumb. The first player to successfully pin the other's thumb for a count of three is the winner.

Guns

Players will face each other and repeat the following motion in a rhythm: They will tap both their hands twice on their lap then either choose shoot, reload, or block. If one player shoots while the other is reloading, then that player wins. If both of the players shoot at each other nothing happens. Players will receive the ability to shoot 1 shot with each reload.

Odds and Evens

The player that chose the card will choose “odds” or “evens”. Both players will put up 1-5 fingers behind their backs. Then, they will reveal these numbers to each other at the same time. If the numbers add up to whatever the first player chose, they win, otherwise, they lose.

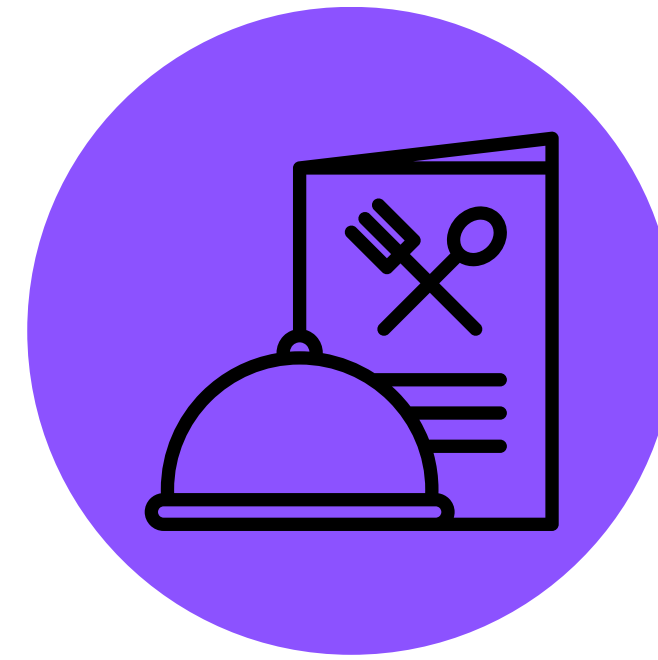

Hand Slap

Hansel will have their palms facing up with Gretel placing their palms down on Hansel's palms. Hansel will then attempt to make contact with Gretel's knuckles by quickly pulling out his hands from underneath Gretel's hands. If Gretel flinches before Hansel moves or her knuckles get slapped, she loses.

Hansel Says

Hansel has five statements to try and trick Gretel. Hansel will say physical commands such as "clap your hands, touch your nose, etc." He has the option to say "Hansel says" before each action; If Gretel does the action and Hansel did NOT say Hansel says, Gretel loses.

Culinary Cruise

Flip a coin to determine who goes first, Hansel being heads and Gretel being tails. Set a timer for thirty seconds. The first player then says a food; the next player must then say a food that ends in the last letter of the food mentioned. This continues until a player can't come up with a food, or when the timer runs out. If the timer runs out, the winner is the last person to say a food.

Quick Draw

Players will set a timer for 25 seconds, then place the timer facedown so neither player can see the time. Both players will then place their hands under their desk if they're sitting, or by their sides if they're standing, making a finger gun if possible. When the timer goes off, players will pull up their hands and point to the other player as fast as possible, yelling bang when they reach their target. Whoever gets their finger up first wins the challenge.

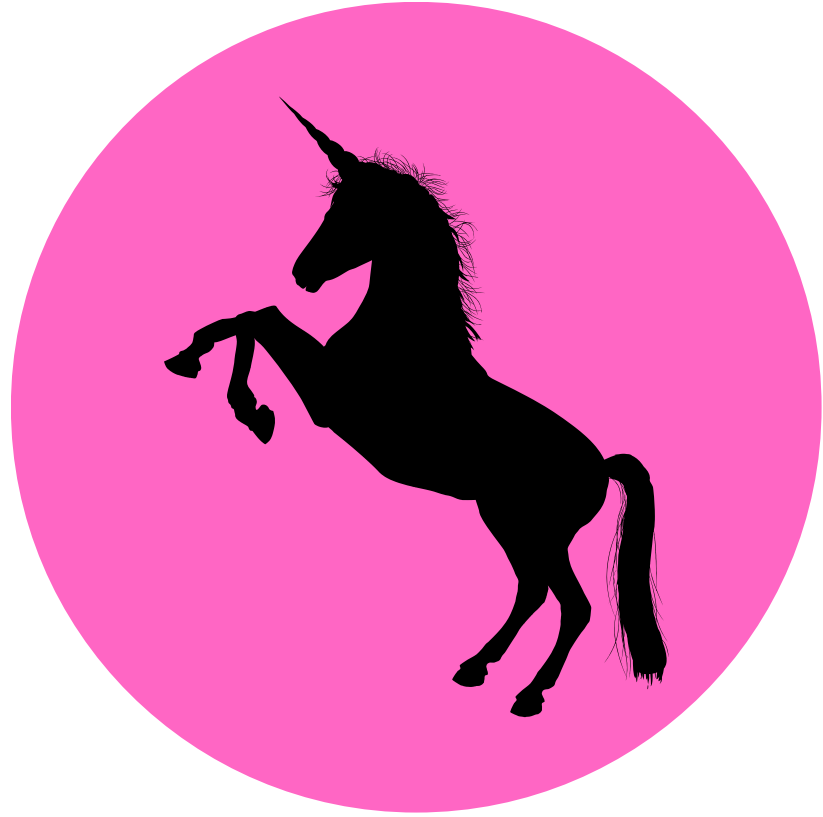

Laugh Off

Flip a coin to determine who goes first, Hansel being heads and Gretel being tails. The first player will attempt to make the other laugh, through either jokes or a physical activity (no physical contact with the other player). The next player will then try to do the same. Whichever player laughs first loses the challenge.

Paper Football

Pull out the triangle from the envelope labeled Paper Football, placing it in the center of the table. Flip a coin to determine who goes first, Hansel being heads and Gretel being tails. Players will try to flick the triangle to the opposite edge of the table, taking care to not flick the triangle off the table. Whoever flicks the triangle to the edge without knocking it over first wins. If a player flicks the triangle off the table, then they lose the challenge.
